Dear Friends,

Last year, we were faced with an unprecedented challenge, a global pandemic that has affected millions of people around the world, including here at home. Throughout it all, Canadians have proven to be strong and resilient in the face of crisis. There's no other way to say it, 2020 was not an easy year. Etobicoke North has seen its fair share of challenges, but we've risen to them each and every time. Throughout the pandemic, we've seen neighbors helping neighbors, small businesses helping communities, and front-line workers helping to keep our families healthy and safe.

We now have a unique opportunity to build back better and change the vulnerabilities in society that have been exposed by the pandemic. We have the chance to invest in the kind of country and community we want to see. A country that takes action on climate change and plastic pollution. A country that will continue to walk the path of reconciliation with Indigenous communities. A country that recognizes and addresses the challenges faced by racialized Canadians. And one that invests in its people's health and wellbeing, through mental health supports and programs such as universal national pharmacare.

Despite everything, we've done great work in 2020, but we're not out of the woods yet. A lot of hard work remains to be done, but I know Etobicoke North is up to the task. I love serving the people of Etobicoke North, and I'm proud of the good work we've accomplished together.

Wishing everyone a happy and healthy 2021.

Our Liberal government will continue to make sure no Canadian is left behind by supporting people and businesses through the pandemic as long as it lasts, whatever it takes. With historic programs like the Canada Emergency Response Benefit, Canada Relief Benefit, and the Canada Emergency Wage Subsidy, we've helped protect jobs and ensure Canadians can continue to pay their bills in this crisis.

Our Liberal government is proud to celebrate Black History Month and remains committed to support, protect, and economically empower Black Canadians, by investing in the Black Entrepreneurship Program. We will also continue to address systemic racism through Canada's Anti-Racism Strategy, the creation of an anti-racism secretariat, and the first-ever Minister focused on diversity and inclusion. We know more needs to be done for permanent, transformative change to take shape.

This month, we celebrate the unique heritage and cultures of First Nations, Inuit, and Métis peoples, and recognize the important contributions Indigenous peoples have made and continue to make to our country. Our Liberal government has been working in partnership with Indigenous peoples to build a renewed relationship, and to close gaps in housing, health, and education for Indigenous communities. Together, we will continue to advance reconciliation and right past wrongs.

This month the Canada Child Benefit will increase again to keep up with the rising costs of raising children. Since our Liberal government introduced the Canada Child Benefit, over 300,000 children have been lifted out of poverty, and 9 out of 10 families have more money in their pocket to help with things like groceries, school supplies, and childcare.

AUGUST 2021

Small businesses are key drivers of the Canadian economy and the cornerstone of our communities. In the last year, small businesses have faced the pandemic with incredible resilience, innovation, and a recognition that we must all prioritize our health and safety to fight COVID-19. Our Liberal government took immediate, significant, and decisive action to help Canadian businesses keep their doors open and their employees on the job during these critical times.

It's back to school season!

Our government understands that a strong education system builds a strong and thriving economy. That is why we are working hard to support students and their families, as well as the schools across the country that provide our students with a world-class education. We're also investing in more training programs and job opportunities for young Canadians to help them break into the workforce, and last September, we created the Safe Return to Class fund to help teachers and students through the COVID-19 crisis.

Women – and in particular low-income women – have been hit hardest by COVID-19. Our Liberal government will create an Action Plan for Women in the Economy and advance the Women's Entrepreneurship Strategy to help more women get back into the workforce. We will also make significant, long-term, sustained investments to create a Canada-wide early learning and childcare system. Canada cannot succeed if half of the population is held back - childcare services are necessary for women's social and economic equality.

Our Liberal government is taking action to achieve zero plastic waste by 2030. We've banned harmful single-use plastic items that are difficult to recycle like plastic bags, straws, six-pack rings, and plastic food containers. By ridding Canada of plastic pollution once and for all, we will protect our environment, boost our economy, and build a greener and cleaner Canada.
